

Tunbridge Wells Cultural & Learning Hub

Newsletter – 5th July 2017

Consultation:

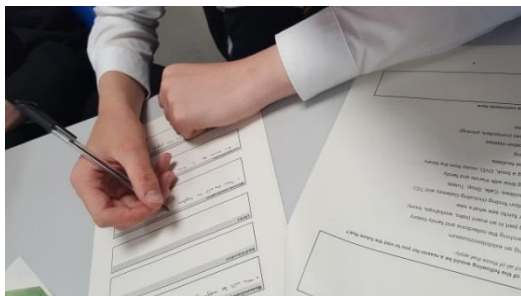

As you may already be aware, we are currently in the process of consulting on the RIBA (Royal Institute of British Architecture) stage 2 concept designs for the Tunbridge Wells Cultural & Learning Hub.

The team have hosted a number of formal and informal sessions for you to view the designs and ask questions. The designs are available to view in the foyer of the Library and Museum building until 16th July, and are available to view online here:

A questionnaire is available to give feedback online and paper copies can be picked up from the Museum and Library.

Your feedback is very important at this stage, and questionnaires need to be returned by 16th July 2017.

Volunteers:

There have been a number of volunteer projects throughout the past year, with volunteers giving their time to help with conservation, collections cataloguing and photography and acting as Hub Ambassadors; promoting the project, helping with consultation events, questionnaires and collating the feedback.

We wish to say a huge thank you to everyone who has volunteered their time.

If you are interested in volunteering as part of the project more information can be found on the website.

Next Steps:

The project team gave a presentation at the HLF Mid Stage Review in June, with the team now awaiting the results of this meeting.

We are on track to submit our stage 2 funding bid to ACE at the end of July and to HLF at the end of August.

Thank you for your continued support. If you have any questions about the project or suggestions for things to cover in this newsletter email:
